Senior Car Wash

Very Successful
The Senior Class wishes to take this opportunity to thank City Manager Harold Cliff and the street department for permitting them to use the hose and barricades for their car wash last Saturday. They earned $56.98 for their efforts which will be added to their savings and used for a class trip to the World Fair. They are selling apples and candy this week. Due to the uncertainty of weather conditions at this time of year, car washes will be held in the school garage at the High School.

Area Culligan Dealers Meet in Grayling

A dinner meeting at Chief Shoppe's Motor Hotel for northern area Culligan dealers and their wives was held Thursday with local dealer Eric Post and Mrs. Post hosting the group.
State Culligan representative Lew Conney of Battle Creek gave a talk on growth and expansion plans of the company. Roger Kiehn of Minneapolis, Minnesota, company technical advisor for Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, gave a rundown on changes made in various products manufactured and sold by the company and planned changes for 1964.

ATTENTION

In order to earn their trip to the New York World's Fair in May, the seniors of Grayling High School are continuing their magazine drive for one more week. If any residents of Grayling wish to purchase magazines, they may call 348-8111, anytime between Sept. 30th and Oct. 7th.
The seniors are also selling "Kathryn Breich" candy this week. This candy will sell for $1.00 per pound, a choice of either butter mints or butter taffy.
A car wash will be held in the school garage on October 12th. We will appreciate your help in these projects. Thank you.

Harbor Rams Win 25 - 6

Vikings To Entertain Charlevoix Rayders At Local Field Friday

The Grayling High Vikings return to their home gridiron this Friday night after two disastrous games on the road. Their hopes are high to get back in the win column on their home field as they got the season underway with a win over Harrison here and then on the road lost to East Jordan and Harbor Springs. They will meet Charlevoix Friday night.
The Rayders this year were not picked to finish too high in the conference standings before the season got underway. However, they defeated Harbor Springs 26 to 19 and lost to East Jordan by the close score of 12 to 6. Boyne City downed Gaylord last Friday 30 to 12 and Mancelona stopped Pellston 19 to 0.
Grayling is expected to be back at full strength for Friday night with Randy Thompson who has missed two games back in uniform and halfback Jim Young who missed last Friday's game also returning. Coach Don Ferguson said early this week that the Vikings could win Friday night if they had a real desire. Comparative scores, however, definitely favor the visitors.
The Vikings, although taking a physical beating at the hands of the Rams last Friday night at Harbor Springs, came out of the game with no serious injuries.
The Rams struck for two touchdowns in the first quarter and added one more in the second and third frames. The lone Grayling score came in the final quarter.
The Vikings fumbled in the first frame and Harbor Springs recovered. They scored from ten yards out with Corpe carrying. They added a second one later in the period as Kilbourn ran it in from twenty yards out. In the second period, Kilbourn passed to Dave Winegardner who raced in with the play covering 55 yards.
The final Ram score came in the third period on a play which produced some controversy. A Viking receiver dropped a pass. Kilbourn picked it up and ran twenty yards to score. The officials then ruled that the pass had been completed and consequently fumbled and was in play.
Grayling scored on a 70 yard punt return by Curt Feldhauser. Feldhauser gathered in the Harbor kick and took it back brilliantly. Key blocks in the 70 yard scamper were turned in by Gary Luckstead and Mark Anderson that sprang the ball carrier loose to go all the way.
Coach Ferguson said that Mark Anderson turned in a fine game both on offense and defense and also singled out Jack Harney for special improved play.

Plan Trail Rider Round-up This Saturday

The Michigan Trail Riders Ass'n. is sponsoring a cross-country trail ride and round-up this week for horsemen in Crawford County. The round-up will take place Saturday afternoon, Oct. 5, at the State Forest campground located on the Manistee River 4 miles west and 2 miles south of Frederic, in Sec. 7, T37N, R4W, in Crawford County, and will be the windup of a four-day Trail-O-Thon for many groups of riders, according to Floyd Davis, association member, also a representative of the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce. There is to be a dinner Saturday night and breakfast Sunday morning.
Participants in the Trail-O-Thon will start from headquarters of organized groups. Different groups will be riding varied distances and so starting on different days, but all will meet Saturday at the camp grounds. This is a family affair and all participants must conduct themselves accordingly. Persons under 17 years of age must have an adult with them who will be responsible for them.
Interested persons may join the ride at any point on the Michigan Cross Country Trail that suits their fancy, or join one of the organized groups. In this area James Hardy of the Lost Creek Sky Ranch, Luzerne, is headquarters for an organized group. The public is welcome to all events except the banquet for which reservations were closed last week. Arrangements for food, hay, grain and transportation of gear may be made with Mr. Hardy. There is no charge for camping or use of the trail.

Grayling Residents Meet in London

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Moore received a letter last week from their son A/L Richard Moore, who is based 65 miles out of London, England. In the letter he said, "Dear Mom and Dad: I had a wonderful weekend with the Fred Lammis and Garnetta Findlay. I met them at their hotel Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Saturday dinner with them at the hotel and we all went downtown to a stage play. It was 'Sound of Music.' It was real good. It has been playing in London for two years. Then after the show I took them back to their hotel by the underground subway, which was enjoyed by everyone.
On Sunday I met them and was invited to go on the sightseeing tour of London with them, also toured Windsor Castle, and then saw them off at the airport for Amsterdam, Holland."
Mr. and Mrs. Lamm and Miss Findlay are part of a Grange group making a three week tour of several European countries. They left on Sept. 19. Mrs. Lenore Braker of Lansing, State Grange Master's wife, is one of the group making the trip.

May Survey Health Needs Of This Area

The James A. Hamilton Associates, a Hospital Consultant firm of Minnesota, has informed the Sisters of Mercy that a detailed study should be conducted to determine health needs of the geographical areas served by Mercy Hospital. In early summer, Mr. John Sweetland, Jr., a representative of the consultants, visited Grayling as part of an investigation to determine if the area needs a long term nursing facility. His initial report indicated that there is need for a nursing home facility. The consultants are convinced that the area will receive a higher level of care if a skilled nursing care unit is attached to the general acute hospital.

Presently it appears as though the laundry, dietary and administrative areas of the existing building could support a 40 bed long term unit without additional space. The consultant met with the doctors, many nurses and other interested people of the area. Many suggestions were given for other services and facilities that are needed. Some of these include: physical therapy, enlarged pediatric unit, intensive care unit for those acutely or critically ill and enlarged out-patient services. The need for enlarged out-patient services was a frequently demonstrated during July and August when over 500 patients used this department, each month. During July, care was given to 25 percent of the total number of patients who received similar care during all of 1962.

A detailed Role and Program study will be undertaken this fall to determine to what extent the communities served by Mercy Hospital need and want additional facilities to improve health care not only to the aging but to all age groups.

King of them all

Nothing makes a fellow prouder than achievement. The man who makes a "good trade, swap or purchase" doesn't mind telling folks about it, either. It's the natural thing to do.

Have you noticed, though, these fellows are getting more plentiful all the time. You probably know several of them, had to listen to them talk about this "good deal" he made for a car, a house, an appliance or something else.

If so, you probably noted that these "good deals" were made locally, with merchants and businessmen right here in our town.

Makes you stop and think, doesn't it? Particularly if you haven't taken the time lately to see for yourself what local folks have to offer.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Besides looks, ride and power - what's so special about it?

(It's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a fresh-crested look. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Series.

A choice of seven engines, no less, without putting all the way up to 425 hp.* And a choice of four smooth transmissions to go with them.

And underlying it all, the opulent feel of this '64 Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride.

Matter of fact, the most noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys.

Tetanus Deaths Unnecessary, Says AMA Health Official

Despite the outpouring of new "wonder" drugs, man's ancient enemy, tetanus, has not yet succumbed to a cure.

Even so, death from tetanus, or "lockjaw" as it is commonly called, is "almost entirely unnecessary," says Raymond L. White, M.D., Director of Environmental Medicine for the American Medical Association.

"As a disease, tetanus is completely preventable," Dr. White noted. "The only reason it persists is that people fail to get immunized, or fail to maintain their immunity. Out of sheer neglect, three-fourths of the people don't have the protection they need."

"If it weren't for medicine's continual concern over the possibility of tetanus—if practically every time a physician saw a wound he didn't take precautions against tetanus—the disease would rank much higher among human killers."

Tetanus is caused by a deadly poison emitted by certain bacteria which contaminate certain types of wounds—especially puncture wounds, or wounds with imbedded dirt.

The bacteria itself cannot survive long enough in the open air to infect wounds. But its seeds or spores can.

Tetanus spores are usually produced by bacteria growing within the air-free intestinal tracts of mammals, including man, and reach the ground in animal manure. Within the intestines, bacteria cause no harm to their host, other than to serve as factories for the production of spores.

Once on the ground the spores, which are unaffected by air, and are borne great distances on the wind, can survive for as long as 11 years. Besides cultivated land, they are commonly found in household dust and the grime of city streets.

Some have even been detected in hospital operating rooms—tracked in on street shoes.

"The spores in some sections of the country are nearly as common as dirt, and await only the right kind of wound to start their chain of infection."

Because of its peculiar nature, tetanus has never been a mass killer like some infectious diseases. It is, however, a vicious enemy, killing 60 per cent of those it strikes.

Development of immunity against tetanus, says Dr. White, requires a series of inoculations

Puncture wounds are a common cause of tetanus.

—three injections four weeks apart, followed within six to twelve months by a booster dose. To maintain this protection, additional booster shots are necessary every four years.

"Protection," he said, "should begin early in life—one to two months after birth—for the scrapes and falls of childhood offer tetanus many opportunities."

"But adults need protection too. With the new emphasis on outdoor living, with accidents on the increase and with the spore of tetanus in the dust and dirt all about us, we can only look forward to an increase in this deadly disease unless we make better use of our good sense, get immunized and keep immunized."

Larger Pension Payments To County Residents

NEW YORK — How large are the Federal pension checks going to Crawford County residents, compared with those going to people in other parts of the United States?

How much of an impact does this money exert on the local economy each year?

According to the latest official figures, released by the Social Security Administration, the local economy feels pension money in high.

As of the beginning of this year, it is shown, the average payment to beneficiaries in Crawford County amounted to $797 per year, which compares favorably with the average of $785 per recipient in the United States as a whole.

This money, which goes to retired or disabled workers and their dependents, is paid from the trust funds of the old-age survivors and disability insurance system, which are operated on an actuarial basis.

Just how much each pensioner or his family receives, each month depends upon how much he paid into the funds during his active working career.

Because average earnings in the local area have been higher, the contributions have also been higher and so have the benefits.

Overall, the report shows, some 637 residents of the county are receiving pension payments amounting to $508,900 a year.

Some idea of the expansion that has been taking place may be had by looking at the figures released by the administration three years ago.

At that time, there were only 488 local beneficiaries. They received $354,000 during that year.

More and more people throughout the nation are coming under the protection of the social security system with each passing year as amendments are made to broaden the coverage.

In fiscal 1962 alone, over 1 1/2 million men, women and children were added to the benefit rolls and the payments went up by $1.8 billion.

The amount of money coming into Crawford County each year, via these pension checks, has reached an important level. As the business men calculate it, it now represents 7.3 per cent of every dollar spent in the local retail stores.

Medicare Today . . .

One may be justified in asking "What has happened to Medicare?" — bill for providing medical benefits of various kinds to everyone drawing social security payments.

When this measure was introduced, it will be remembered, all of the administration guns were brought up in its support. No other domestic measure was pushed so hard, and administration leaders apparently scented success. The result, to use the vernacular, was "no dice." Congress, in the face of all the pressure, just said No. and No again.

Medicare is back — old bills like old soldiers, even after repeated failure, never seem to die. But the big guns are silent. Token support comes from its sponsors, but little more.

Why? The answer is that congressional coolness is the direct result of several diverse but important factors.

1. The past - 65 population group is nowhere near as bad off financially as the Medicare crew have asserted. By and large, taking all elements into consideration, they seem to be better off, on the average, than younger groups.

2. Medicare would give the benefits, on a blanket basis, to great numbers of social security beneficiaries who neither want nor need it. At the same time, it would have excluded millions of elderly people not within the social security framework.

3. The cost, according to independent experts, would reach unsupportable heights, many billions a year.

4. The existing, Kerr-Mills Bill — for providing federal medical financial aid to the elderly in need, under a system of state administration — is working well and is being extended.

5. The voluntary medical insurance plans, offered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield and commercial insurance companies, are doing a superb job providing protection to all who want it, at moderate cost.

6. There is a very distinct feeling in this country that we've already gone too far in Welfare Statism, and that Medicare would take us a long step farther along the road of government domination of everything and everybody.

And that seems to be the status of Medicare today.

National Bible Week - 1963

The Holy Bible continues to be, as it has been for many generations, the best seller of all books published in this world!

In helping to further an interest in a reading and study of the Great Book, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc. asks that we set aside the week of October 21st through 27th and recognize it as National Bible Week. This year marks the 23rd in a long and auspicious line of Bible Week observances. A timely theme has been chosen: "The Bible — Symbol of Unity."

When we speak of unity in conjunction with the Bible it can mean but one thing — the joining together of all faiths in a drive to bring peace and understanding to all men in today's troubled world.

Let the Bible be a symbol of unity, both in family and nation.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALLANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

October 3, 1940

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stripe are now nicely settled in their new home on Park Street. Their home is a Cape Cod architecture with a full basement, four rooms and bath, and equipped with a hot air heating plant. The outside is sided with white, and the roof is of blended green shingles. All of the carpenter work is credited to Mr. Stripe, manual arts teacher, who began the work some time in July. He has done all of the work with the exception of the chimney, and has done a very fine job.

William Simpson of Romeo is adding two more log cabins to his property at Lake View at Lake Margrethe. The logs are furnished by Carl Madsen, and the work is being done by Earl Madsen and Walter Shaw.

G. W. Mason of the Nash-Kelvinator Corp., Detroit, has added a bathhouse and guest cabin on his property near the Oxbow club on the Ausable. William C. Devereaux of Detroit is remodeling his summer home near the Oxbow.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Houghton are building a home next to the Grayling Machine shop on U. S. 27. There will be four rooms and the outside walls covered with the Eric siding.

Dan Hoesli has had a new green shingle roof put on his house. Willard Harwood is busy having his home on Peninsular street remodeled on the inside and a cement foundation put under it.

Paul Feldhauser and family have moved from Park Street to their new home down river that was recently completed.

Grayling's enthusiastic baseball fans, of whom there are many, had grandstand seats for the little world series between the Tigers and Cleveland last Friday and Saturday, provided by Johnny Johnson. The seats were placed in front of his furniture store and a radio moved to the outside, with the scoreboard marked out clearly on the plate glass window. Charlie Ford was there in a white suit selling pop and the whole reminded one of a big town stadium. That was the day the Tigers clinched the pennant. Spike, Dago and Bud Sorenson helped Johnny with the heavy work of placing the stands.

Gertrude Foley in Panama writes "Saw the canal most of the way. As the train winds across the Isthmus, it comes in full view of the Culebra Cut, the Miraflores locks and Gatun lake. Great trees of rubber, cocoa and royal palms were on all sides. Banana plants growing wild. Beautiful flaming colored air-plant and orchids hung from oaks. Great black vultures circle high above the green hills, crocodiles lie sleeping in the mud and corromants fly in and out of the filthy bogs. This is Panama, where the best is like the worst. I like it all, but can I take it?"

The Frederic Agricultural School opened September 3 with an attendance of 167 pupils. The curriculum has been reorganized and the students seem to like it very much. Two new teachers were employed this year. They are Miss Weller from Mt. Pleasant, who is teaching Home Living, English and Social Science, and Miss Mulvihill, who is teaching the kindergarten, 1st and 2nd grades. On the 5th of September the class officers of the Frederic School were chosen, as follows: 9th grade, President, Jack Post, Vice-Pres., Sam Bailey, Sec. Treas., Caroline Post, 10th grade, President, Tom Manter, Vice-Pres., Eleanor Winslow, Sec. Dorothy Wincoff, Treas., Raylie Lozon. 11th grade, no officer, group system. 12th grade, President, Lawrence Laughton, Vice-Pres., Guy Kellogg, Sec. Beatrice Newberry, Treas., Arthur Giffin.

Mrs. Floyd SanCarter entertained the members of the Just Us Club at her home Tuesday evening.

George Schable, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schable, has been absent from school the past week and is ill at his home with yellow fever.

William McGraw is having a cement foundation put under his home.

Little Roger Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, was dismissed from Mercy Hospital Sunday, September 29. The little lad tipped the scales at seven pounds and five ounces.

Ernest Lovely celebrated his 55th birthday anniversary Saturday and fourteen little guests were invited in for the afternoon to help him celebrate the occasion. Games were enjoyed with honors going to Jackie Millikin and Beatrice Schreiber. Ice cream and cake were served by Ernest's mother, Mrs. Ernest Lovely.

William Ferguson is not only a successful county treasurer, but does a good job of farming as well. He has been showing at the court house one corn stalk measuring 12 feet and 2 inches in height. When one realizes that that is over twice as high as a six-foot man, we realize that it is "some corn." He has only an acre and a quarter but says the stalks will all average 10 feet and are well filled with ears.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Leslie dropped in that evening to extend their felicitations. Pinocchio and bunco were the order of entertainment with honor scores being held by Mrs. Middle LaMotte and Mrs. Ed Clark for bunco and Richard Lovely and Mrs. Oscar Goss for pinocchio. Lunch was served and Mrs. Bouslay was presented with a lovely gift from the group.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Shanbrite of Detroit have rented a cabin down the river and will spend some time here.

Mrs. John Cowell had the misfortune of running her right hand into a wringer. No serious injuries resulted but we understand she hopped and danced apently because of the pain.

Mrs. Alex Atkinson invited a few ladies in Tuesday evening as a surprise to help Mrs. Else Rasmussen celebrate her birthday anniversary which fell on that day. Pinocchio was enjoyed during the evening until the hostess served lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Perry are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Lloyd James Jr., born to them at Mercy Hospital Sunday, September 29. The little lad tipped the scales at seven pounds and five ounces.

Thursdays Mrs. Susie Bouslay celebrated her birthday anniversary and several of her friends.

can't open the door

It's a fact every parent must face!

The Church is eager to provide our children with religious training. And our children need this training. But THEY can't open the door.

We must come with them. We must worship every Sunday... and take an active part in the classes and activities of the Church for adults — not for ourselves alone.

For a child values supremely the example of his parents. If they love their Church — he loves it too! If going to Church is too much trouble for them — it's too much trouble for him too!

God gave us these little souls to love... to nurture... to raise to Christian manhood and womanhood. And God gave us churches... to enrich our lives and theirs.

And God gave us doors... to open!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church.

1. For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

More Sonic Booms Coming

OFFUTT AFB, Neb. — Super-sonic training flights by Strategic Air Command B-58 Hustler bombers will start Oct. 1, along a route from Adrian to Bayshore, Mich. which will bring them over Crawford County.

Radar bomb scoring equipment at an Air Force RBS site near Bayshore will determine the accuracy of simulated bomb drops through the use of radio and radar signals. No bombs are carried by the aircraft on these training missions.

Flights along the route may be scheduled almost daily through December. Normally, flights will not be scheduled between 10 p. m. and 7 a. m.

The bombers will fly at super-sonic speeds up to Mach 2 (1,320 m. p. h.) at altitudes above 35,000 feet. They will fly in a straight-line, 40-mile-wide corridor and may travel in either direction.

Training corridors for the SAC bombers are rotated periodically because realistic training benefits diminish when the crews become familiar with the landmarks, simulated target complexes and other identifying characteristics of a particular area.

One of the features of the B-58, the free world's fastest bomber, is its ability to sustain supersonic speed over a substantial distance while approaching and leaving its target. This capability enhances crew survival and assures a higher probability of mission success despite strong enemy defensive measures normally expected over a target.

A costly supersonic bomber is of little value in combat if the crew cannot use its full capabilities because of inadequate prior training. Consequently, these aircraft must fly at high speeds, creating sonic booms along the routes. Because of the high altitudes, the booms are comparatively weak in strength. Although sometimes startling or distracting in their suddenness, the booms will in no circumstances cause personal injury.

Feathered Tourists

The seasonal comings and goings of birds are generally taken for granted as being commonplace events. However, much remains unknown or just partially understood about the whys and wherefores of bird migration. Why, for example, does the ruby-throated hummingbird (above, right) journey from the far-off south to spend the summer months in northern climes? What triggers his departures? And how does he find his way? The same can be asked about hundreds of other feathered tourists such as night hawks (above, left) which migrate to South America for the winter, and the Pacific golden plovers (right) which somehow stay on course over long stretches of water to reach their destinations. One of the "whys" of migration is to find room for living. Also, the farther north birds go, the longer their summer days, and the more time they have for gathering food. Most species migrate "by the calendar" rather than by the weather. Apparently, the length of day is the timing factor which synchronizes their movements with the calendar. Recent experiments bear out the theory that migrants get their sense of direction by following the most obvious guides—the sun by day and the stars by night.

LANSING — No doubt about it, birds migrate. At any rate, many of them do.

Most people know that birds go south in the fall and come back in the spring. This isn't altogether true, but it's a good start. The truth about bird migration is a vast amount of known facts, and a good deal that remains clouded, unknown, or only guessed at.

Take, for example, the ruby-throated hummingbird which travels from the far-off south to spend the summer months in northern climes. The chemistry by which the converts tiny insects and roplets of nectar into energy to make this long journey is miracle enough.

But this does not answer such questions as: Why does he do it? What triggers his departures? And how does he find his way? The first of these is easiest to explain. Because so many species of hummingbirds live in the tropics, it's advantageous for the ruby-throat to travel to the eastern United States and southern Canada to do its nesting.

Here there is no competition from other hummers. Through migration this tiny bird achieves what the Germans call "Lebensraum" — room for living. Furthermore, the farther north it goes, the longer its summer days. When Mrs. Ruby-throat has two youngsters in her thimble-sized nest, that bonus of daylight gives her more time to gather food for them.

About a quarter of all bird species that are seen in Michigan go south of the Mexican border in winter, a number of them well into South America. Many species, like the hummingbird, are wide-ranging and may be found from the northern United States through Mexico and Central America, perhaps including the West Indies and northern South America in their wintering grounds.

On the other hand, some three dozen that go south for the cold season rarely go beyond the Gulf States.

Bird banding by government agencies, research institutions, and individuals has provided definite information about the movements of birds. It has proved the distances and general routes birds may travel, has shown that a particular bird of a far-traveling species may return to the very same nesting tree it used the year before, and has demonstrated also that some members of a species may be migratory while others live their entire lives on a small area (blue jays and song sparrows, for example).

Scientists and laymen alike have speculated for many years as to how birds manage to find their way on their migrations, often over long stretches of water. For instance, the Pacific golden plovers that winter in the Hawaiian Islands were probably hatched in the Aleutian Islands of Alaska, about 2,000 miles away. To nest they must return to Alaska in the spring.

How are these and other birds able to stay on course to reach their destinations? A "sense of direction" is often mentioned in attempting to explain this. One hypothesis was that birds are capable of perceiving the earth's magnetic field as the means of finding their way. However, experiments have not come up with sound evidence that a bird is any more aware of magnetic force than man is.

A more modern hypothesis supposes that birds are sensitive to the "Coriolis force," a different in gravitational effect upon a moving object, depending on the direction of its movement compared to the rotation of the earth. The great difficulty is the extremely fine degree of sensitivity required, far beyond any that we know of, plus the disturbing changes in the effective pull of earth's gravity caused by the ups and downs dictated by air currents.

Recent experiments cast further doubt on the magnetism and Coriolis force theories, indicating that migrants find their way by following the sun by day and the stars by night.

Most birds migrate "by the calendar" rather than by the weather. Apparently, the length of day is the timing factor which synchronizes their movements with the calendar. Unfavorable weather may slow the progress of migration. By and large, however, migration is a surprisingly regular and orderly phenomenon from year to year.

Thus, we are quite right to judge the progress of the seasons by the comings and goings of the feathered tourists.

Boys Will Come Back Another Time Is Good Bet

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a teenage problem. I like the boys who are a little older than I am. My parents both agree that I am not yet old enough to go out on dates. When a boy asks me to go out, I always have to refuse. As a result, the boys are turning away from me. What should I do? And how old do you think a girl should be before she goes out on dates?"

OUR REPLY: How old are you?

Teacher Turnover In Michigan Runs 10 Per Cent Annually

TEACHER CHANGES
Teacher turnover in Michigan runs about 10 per cent annually, according to a survey by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett believes that most teachers who did not return this fall to the jobs they held during the 1962-63 school year went to other school districts. This was the first year the department compiled statistical data on the number of teachers who do not return to the same school system in a succeeding year.

The 10 per cent attrition represented 6,921 teachers. Analysis of the survey showed 27.2 per cent went to other school districts, another 19.6 per cent retired to rear families, 15.1 per cent retired, 9.4 per cent obtained other employment and 2 per cent died.

The other 26.7 per cent gave up their teaching posts for unknown or miscellaneous reasons, Bartlett said.

The extensive study also showed the number of fulltime teachers in Michigan reached an all-time high of 65,146 last year.

A rather interesting fact was also noted in the survey report. Most people think men are a small minority in the teaching ranks.

new effort is headed by A. R. Saunders, executive vice president of the Michigan Real Estate Ass'n.

Known as the Michigan Minute-men, the new unit hopes to sell the state 365 days a year to attract new industries, tourists and permanent residents.

Working as leaders of the Minute-men are executive secretaries or managers of 12 organizations representing civic, farm, labor, religious, professional and trade associations.

Each of the associations in turn will enlist members of the Minute-men, which derived its name from the volunteer units trained before the Revolutionary War to "fight at a minute's notice."

ded, however, that they should exercise due caution in any activity in or near water during the remainder of the year," Childs said.

Water accidents are not confined to summer activities, Childs noted. Three of the victims already recorded this year fell through ice, and some 40 others died when they fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers.

PROMOTE IN MINUTE
Planning for the annual Michigan Week has come to be nearly a year-round job for the organizers of the event.

This is as it was hoped when the annual brag week was initiated a decade ago.

Now a new selling campaign is getting under way, similar to that intended in the planning of Michigan Week promotions.

Everybody out of the rut ... the '64 Buicks are here?

Buick LeSabre: Stunning new look, new gas-saving engine. Probably 1964's best full-size value. 1964 Buick Wildcat: Most luxurious Buick. Splendidly contemporary in look and performance.

Our happiest problem for '64 was: how to beat a winner? According to thousands of owners, the 1963 models just about had it made in all departments. But—when your name is Buick—you just don't rest on your laurels. You keep pushing to make a great car greater.

So... the '64 Buicks are new—but new. New engines, V-6 or V-8 (you'll like their new gas economy), new, smoother, extra-cost option, Super Turbine Transmissions (and who, but Buick, would build in an altitude compensator?). Youngest looking Fisher Bodies in town! Visit a showroom, sit in any one of the new Buicks, and practice this short easy line: "My Buick." Sounds good, doesn't it?
